

Nathan Mitchell

Grassroots Coach

Self-Employed Builder

A grassroots coach with an incredible passion for football, Nathan Mitchell never thought it would be possible to follow his passion and work full-time football... until he found the Football Fun Factory!

Fittingly, it was by holding a special event with the Football Fun Factory with his grassroots club, that Nathan became aware of the FFF.

Having followed the journey of the organisation he got in touch to discuss the possibility of bringing the franchise to the community that he grew up in.

Nathan now runs his own Football Fun Factory franchise and hasn't looked back!

“

I never thought it would be possible to work full-time in Football

”

